INVESTMENT TARGET

The investment objective of the Sub-Fund is to generate long-term capital appreciation by investing directly in a diversified portfolio of equities—including Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs)—and debt securities of any kind, encompassing money market instruments, cash and cash equivalents, as well as financial derivative instruments (FDIs).

MANAGER COMMENT

Global stocks fell in October, but the headline return masked a sharp rotation beneath the surface. While developed market equities slipped modestly, a sharp sell-off in emerging markets and artificial intelligence (AI)-linked technology stocks drove global equities lower. Growing scrutiny over whether the substantial investment being committed to AI infrastructure would generate sufficient returns weighed on technology-related companies, while higher financing costs put pressure on the more highly leveraged parts of the ecosystem. Meanwhile, high-quality government bonds performed strongly as investors sought diversification amid pockets of stress across equity and credit markets. This was despite resilient economic activity and higher oil prices as tensions in the Middle East intensified. Within that context the fund closed the month positively at 144.18 EUR (NAV retail class C, +1.39%% on a monthly basis and 6.55% year-to-date).
